

If your eyes fall on these words chances are your dining companion is running late. They're probably struggling to figure out the whole 'two lifts to the one destination' thing. Don't worry. They'll turn up soon.

Or perhaps you're enjoying the rare luxury of dining alone, in which case let us just say we have a great selection of wines by the glass, some really interesting half-bottles and some bloody fabulous magnums if you feel like sharing.

Maybe you're hiding out here, pretending to search for a good bottle while someone else at the table is banging on and on about how well their little darling is doing in Year Nine, or just how excited they are with the way the renovations are coming along.

Relax...Take your time. They won't even notice you're gone.

Whatever the reason, we're just happy you've bothered to read this little manifesto instead of just going straight to the page with all the pinot gris on it.

The document you have in your hands tells you everything you need to know about 2KW.

We take it very seriously and we have good fun doing it.

On the day we opened we had a list packed with the wines we liked to drink that we hoped you'd like too.

Three years down the track that's still our bottom line.

This is a list populated with wines that define South Australia and wines from co-ordinates that help remind us there are other places on the planet that can produce some pretty smart stuff too.

We have a lot of wines from winemakers we call mates and if just a few more of them would come in and settle their bar tabs we can hopefully keep it that way.

This is a list that gives equal consideration to the classic and the cutting edge, the ethereal and the experimental.

All we ask is that it's delicious to drink.

We call it 'our' list but while you're with us it's yours.

Dive in...Explore...Come along for the ride.

SPARKLING

All good wine should excite and beguile but very few liquids can sharpen a celebration and awaken anticipation quite like fine fizz. Champagne's the obvious starting point but Australian sparkling demands strong consideration too.

GRENACHE & BLENDS

Grenache just might be the most shamefully underappreciated variety on the planet. It has the fragrance and suppleness of great pinot noir without the high-mindedness and it forms the backbone of some of the world's best red blends. We're starting a petition to have it replace the Sturt Desert Pea as South Australia's botanical emblem.

SHIRAZ & BLENDS

Because it does well in just about every part of the country no other variety paints a better picture of Australian regionality. Even the diversity of just the South Australian selection proves that anyone who tries to tell you shiraz is all the same is a window-licking idiot.

CABERNET SAUVIGNON, MERLOT & BLENDS

We love cabernet for its internal architecture, those tactile structural elements that make it so satisfying. And few unions are more perfect than cabernet tannins and the bloody juices released by a perfectly rare steak.

YARRA YERING

Free Spirits of the Yarra Valley

The good Doctor Carrodus found the perfect site for his acclaimed and distinctive wines. Basking in the warmth of all day sun, and elevated above the valley floor on gravelly grey loam, these vineyards have been producing spectacular wines since 1969.
